Hi Boss <sup>PSR(IC)3, PSR</sup>

Please find attached some explanatory notes for the CDF (if required) on what TF81 have been doing to target INS within the BAMYAN region. Hopefully this will provide enough information to ensure a measured approach is taken to any potential TF81 response to the death of the OP CRIB serviceman.

The bottom line is that TF81 is ready to conduct kinetic operations as required however we need to find and fix the INS first. This process is occurring and we have made some HUMINT strides but there is little more than can be added at this time to speed this process up. The death of this serviceman should give added impetus to any further allocation of ISR to the find phase however must be balanced with the fact that servicemen are killed here in AFG everyday and the resources are scarce.
